Protection Needed Against the Indians

A contributor to the S. F. Bulletin, Oct. 11th, furnishes that excellent paper with some sensible remarks on the above subject. We quote from his "Notes of a trip Overland," as follows:

Having just arrived in your City Overland from Atchison (Kansas) via Denver and Salt Lake, it may be of interest to your readers to hear a few of the incidents of such a journey.

Freight wagons going across these Plains travel in large companies for protection. It is estimated that 5,000 wagons are constantly on the road from the Missouri river to Denver. And when we consider the great value of the merchandise and the number of lives constantly opposed to attack from Indians, it is astonishing that the people of the Territories will submit to the do nothing policy of the Government in regard to the Indians. Any commander of troops who has a fight with them is removed; and instead of striking terror into the forces of the savages by severe punishment, the Western people complain that the Government sends them rifles, ammunition and blankets. But there is a smothered desire for vengeance against the Indians for their continual atrocities. The people of Colorado say that if Government will give them permission, they will defend themselves and take care of the Indians. Any one who converses with the hardy mountaineers of Colorado will be convinced that if they do not receive protection from the Government, there will be long be a crusade commenced against the red-faces that will not end short of extermination. This feeling shows itself on all occasions, in the public prints, at the elections, and in the churches. When General Connor—whom the Western people say is the only General in the service who knows how to fight Indians—was removed after his successful fight in August, and assigned to Salt Lake, the feeling of indignation expressed was universal. At every settlement he passed on his way from Fort Laramie to Salt Lake he had an ovation.

One is surprised in going across the plains to see the number of graves by the roadside. Hundreds are killed of whom no report is made. A hole is dug by the side of the road, where they are thrown and covered up. They are poor teamsters or emigrants, far from their friends, and are soon forgotten, but as citizens of this country they are entitled to as ample protection as though they were worth their thousands and had troops of friends. General Connor got a dispatch, two weeks ago, from a member of his Staff who went East from Denver, that the stage in which he was traveling was at Cottonwood Station, surrounded by 700 Indians, and the General expressed his belief, in conversation with the writer, that the mail line would be broken up this Winter.

Proceedings of Miners' Meetings.

IN PAH-RANAGAT SILVER LAKE DISTRICT.

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the miners of the Pah-Ranagat Lake Mining District at Logan Springs on Saturday Oct 21st A. D. 1893 at 7 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of transacting important business.

[Signed.]

By-Laws of Pah-Ranagat Lake Mining District as amended at a regularly called meeting of the miners of said district, held at Logan Springs, Oct. 16th, A. D. 1893:

Art. 1. Sec. 1. This district shall be known by the name of the Pah-Ranagat Lake mining district and be bounded as follows to wit: Beginning at a point ten miles west of Logan Springs and running north ten miles; thence east, thirty miles thence, southerly to the southeasterly point of the lower lake in Pah-Ranagat Valley; thence due west thirty miles; thence due north to the place of beginning.

Art. 2. Sec. 1. There shall be an officer for said district to be called the Recorder. Who shall be elected on the first Monday of May, annually, by the miners of the district.

Sec. 2. He shall procure and keep a substantially bound book, to be called the Book of Locations in which, he shall record in the order in which they are made, for the purpose of all notices of location of claims, whether for mining or other purposes. He shall also procure and keep a similar book to be called the Book of Conveyances in which, he shall record all deeds of conveyance of mining interests, power of attorney and all other instruments relating to mining property and the right or title thereto necessary and proper to be recorded in the district.

Sec. 3. He shall prepare and keep a full, complete and accurate Index and Cross Index to the several books of his office. He shall carefully keep and prepare all original papers filed with him for record, and deliver them upon proper demand, to the person or persons entitled to receive the same, and faithfully do, and perform, all other acts and duties required of him by these laws.

Sec. 4. The Recorder shall hold office for one year, or until his successor is duly elected; provided, however, that he may be removed at any time for misconduct in office, or neglect of duty as prescribed by the laws of this district.

Sec. 5. He shall keep his books open at all hours, for examination and inspection. He may appoint one or more deputies under him, for whose official acts he shall be held responsible.

Sec. 6. He shall note on the back of each notice of location or other instrument filed for record, the day and hour of filing thereof; such instrument shall be deemed recorded from and after the date of such filing for record.

Sec. 7. When a claim shall have been located and recorded, he shall upon request make and deliver to the claimant his agent, or attorney, a certificate of such location and record over his official signature, which certificate shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein stated.

Sec. 8. All examination of records must be made in the presence of the Recorder, or his deputies and when his term of office shall expire, the Recorder shall turn over to his successor all books and papers and other property pertaining to his office.

Sec. 9. The Recorder shall be authorized to demand and receive for his services, the following fees; to wit: Twenty-five cents for each claim recorded; for each official certificate fifty cents; for recording deed, power of attorney, or bill of sale, one dollar.

Art. 3. Sec. 1. All mineral veins which shall be discovered in the district are hereby declared divided into claims of two hundred feet in length, each, and to be numbered from discovery claim, each way from number one to number ten. The discoverer has the right to designate the name of any number of real person not exceeding twenty, as claimants of a lode discovered; but the names and number of claims of each must clearly appear in the notice of location filed with the Recorder. Provided, however, that no names shall be added to the list of claimants by this action authorized after such notice shall be filed for record.

Sec. 2. All claims located are the undivided property of the person in whose name the location is made, and shall be held in severalty. Provided, however, that any number of persons who desire to do so, may acquire and hold claims jointly by location, not to exceed two hundred feet for each member of such company in any one lode.

Sec. 3. No location shall be made in any one lode in this District at one time to exceed four thousand two hundred feet (4,200 feet), but additional claims may be located as extensions or as new discoveries.

Sec. 4. All claims for mining purposes now recorded in this district, or that may hereafter be placed upon record, or hereby disclosed to be real estate or realty, in perpetuity, the locator or owner thereof, and not subject to location or re-location ever after, provided, however, that this section shall not apply to locations of mining claims interfering with previous locations.

Sec. 5. The extent of a claim on any mineral lode or vein, except as in these laws provided, shall not exceed two hundred linear feet, with a width of one hundred feet, on each side of such vein or lode, for working purposes, (as intended by the framers of the original Section 5, Art. 3.) to include all its dips, spurs, angles, widths, offshoots and variations, and all the mineral and other valuable contained in those dips, spurs, angles, widths, offshoots, and variations only, within the said one hundred feet each side of the lode; by him or them located upon. The person or persons who shall first discover and locate any mineral vein, lode or deposit, according to the requirements of these laws, his or their heirs or assignees are entitled to hold, work or dispose of any claim therein acquired under the Laws, or any part or interest therein.

Sec. 6. The discoverer is entitled to one claim for his discovery, and may locate one claim in addition; but no person other than the discoverer shall be allowed to hold by location, by purchase, any number can be acquired and held.

Sec. 7. Any person discovering a lode, shall, in locating the same, erect a conspicuous monument of rock or other durable material at the point of discovery, and leave thereon affixed a written notice, specifying the name of the lode, the name of the discoverer, the date of discovery, the names of the claimants, and the number of the claim of each from discovery claim; also, the probable course of the lode, and also, the name of the lode written on a stake or tree nearest to the location mound.

Sec. 8. All claims must be recorded within ten days after a notice of location shall have been posted thereon. Provided, however, that the locator is not prevented by the absence of the Recorder or the malicious withholding of the Records, but notice filed with the Recorder for Record, shall be deemed equivalent to recording the same.

Sec. 9. Locators on veins of coal or iron shall be entitled to five hundred feet for each discovery, and in all other respects, shall be subject to and enjoy all the privileges and immunities of the Laws.

Sec. 10. All claims for gold surface diggings in this District, shall be two hundred feet square.

Sec. 11. Any person may acquire the right to locate a tunnel by erecting at the point of commencement a monument, such as is required in the location of a lode, and thereon affixing a notice in writing, specifying the name of one of the persons claiming the right, such tunnel is intended to run in a direction thereof; and also the lode it is intended to cross, and a similar notice designating with reasonable certainty, the point of commencement must be filed and recorded in the Recorder's office.

Sec. 12. The extent of a Tunnel right shall not exceed two hundred feet on each side of the centre of each Tunnel, and five thousand feet in length, and all Veins or Lodes crossed by a Tunnel and not previously discovered and located, may be located by the person or persons excavating such Tunnel.

Sec. 3. All Tunnel right acquired by locations previous to this date, shall not be invalidated in consequence of the word excavate having been used instead of the word located.

Art. 4. Sec. 1. Location made on water for mining, city or irrigating purposes, and for mill privilege, shall be respected when Recorded in the office of the District Recorder; and locations thereof shall be subject to and enjoy all the rights and privilege conferred by these laws.

Sec. 2. No persons shall be entitled to vote at any meeting of miners unless he owns a bona fide interest in a mining claim in this district.

Sec. 3. Meetings for the revision or amendment of the By-Laws of this district must be authorized by a written call, signed by at least sixty or more bona fide claim holders in the district, whether resident or not, and the call shall specify the object of such meeting, and designate the articles, section or sections proposed for revision or amendment, and be posted for at least sixty days in three or more conspicuous places in the district.

Sec. 4. All laws or parts of laws in this district conflicting with these laws, as amended, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 5. These laws to be in force from and after their passage.

DARK NIGHTS.—The nights are dark enough for a good deal of devilry, and we hear of a few things that need looking after. How does Mayor Smoot feel on the subject of regulating street walking after dark hours? There is hardly any "shopping" after dark and except on theatre nights there is something very suspicious about prowling males and lingering females. Bless the memory of the good old times of "barbarism" one could once traverse our city at the dead hour of night on the errands of mercy and goodness without ever seeing the shadow of a night walker. Now, virtuous "civilization" how have you made it? Mr. Mayer, think of something that won't interfere upon the rights of any "American citizen" who wants to do things and other things without licence.—Salt Lake Telegraph.

Yes, you sweet advocate of polygamy!—Those old times you allude to were such that a Gentile walking out after dark had to take the middle of the street. With a cocked pistol in his hand, to avoid or resist the assassins who then kept the women within doors, as the Moors do their Concubines!

The Atchison Free Press says: Senator Emery has purchased and brought to this county fifty goats of the common breed, and also twenty of the Cashmere goats—the latter on the way with the view of thoroughly testing the subject in the climate of Kansas. The fifty goats were driven through our streets one day last week.

If we recollect right, the Senator brought to that county, some months ago, a Cashmere widow for a bride. There'll be lots of little kids at Senator Emery's door directly, of the "common breed" and also of the "Cashmere stock."

"MOON ON THE LAKE," is the curious name given to the latest favorite color for ladies' dresses at the East. A new style of veil is also coming into use in New York. It is long and narrow, drawn and fastened to one side of the bonnet, the side of the veil being thrown gracefully over the front; it has a very fine effect.

Col. Sims and a man named Col, had a shooting scrape at Idaho city, a week or so ago. The Col. was wounded in the arm. The affair originated, says the World, in a dispute about a team claimed by each party.

INSTEAD of maintaining a garrison among these heavily populated States, the Government should exercise its authority to destroy the system entirely. It is a standing bluish on the American name until it is abolished.—Dallas "Or. Mountaineer," Nov. 1st.

Local and Miscellaneous

Gen. Ben M. Hoon was welcomed on his return to Atchison, Nov. 1st.

The title of the "What Cheer Ho" at the "What Cheer Ho" at the 13th of $20,000.

THANKS to R. C. Deam, A. A. G. Headquarters Department of California, for pamphlets copied from that northern neighborhood.

M. A. CARTER, Esq., Attorney at Law and County Recorder, from Salt Lake City

The Daily Union-Edifice

Local and Miscellaneous

Gen. B. M. Hughes was warmly welcomed on his return to Atchison, Mo., last.

The sale of the "What Cheer House," San Francisco, was robbed on the night of the 13th of $20,000.

Thanks to R. C. Deam, A. A. General Headquarters Department of California, San Francisco, for pamphlet copies of court martial proceedings.

M. A. Carter, Esq., Attorney at Law, and County Recorder, from Sulphur Springs, Idaho, has our thanks for items from that northern neighborhood.

Academy of Music.—The "Maid of Gossy, or the Old Guard," with Mr. Lyne as Sergeant Anstret, and the ever-tiring, thrilling "Pocahontas," these Tuesday evening. Go one, go hundreds.

The "road agents" are persevering in their perpetrations over in the sacred state of Silverland. A teamster named Grace was robbed of $400 by five of 'em, masked and armed with shotguns, at a place called Trout Creek, on the 13th.

A BALL for the Benefit of the Fenian Brotherhood in the Camp, will be given at the Camp Theatre, on Thursday evening, 23rd inst. Tickets $7. The supper will be served by Mr. Grillo, and will positively be a No. 1.

The Committee of Arrangements will see that everything will be made pleasant to all.

INDIAN FIGHT IN NEVADA.—On the 11th inst., Lieut. Penwell, with 25 men, trailed the Indians that killed Ballou on the Honey Lake road to Black Rock, where they found about 200 Indians under Captain Tom, strongly fortified on a mountain. They fought them for three hours, and were obliged to retire from the field, awaiting more military force to dislodge them from their stronghold.

A DANISH DANCE.—The immigrant sons and daughters of the land of Hamlet had a Scandinavian shin-dig opposite the Salt Lake House, Friday night last, making the third soiree dansante, in full blast, at camp and town, that evening.

Two novel to us the night, to look across the street and see the flaxen-headed Northlanders fling their dolmans at Danish architecture through the figures of the mazy dance, mazourkas, gallopes, &c., like so many spinning tops among the table-balls—in the game of "The Devil among the Tailors."

The deep interest taken by President Young and other gentlemen in the emigrants, has brought about a deliverance to them which will relieve many hearts pained with fearful apprehension.—Telegraph, 15th.

Oh, yes! The "interest" taken in the deluded victims of Mormonism is something akin to the "interest" felt by the spider for the fly, so aptly expressed in the old baby-song of "Will you walk into my parlor," &c., and the recipients of that "interest" will only realize the fact when they find themselves encircled by the filaments of the king spider of the Latter-day Hierarchy, and so entangled in its serpentine windings as to be almost if not thoroughly and inextricably involved in its Penelope web. Though new in blissful ignorance of the designs of those presenting the admixture of truth and error that has captivated them, when they read their history, and think for themselves, should they not become too embued with bigotry to do so, we may look for an edict from "Brother Brigham," "cutting them off from the church" and delivering them over to the buffetings of his master and friend, the great arch-deceiver.

THOUGH the heights around are mantled with their white wintry coats, the valley still is glowing in the genial garments of old Autumn. Though the bough leaves have lost their emerald tints, and the raging color is a russet brown, the transition is a sort of Agrippa's mirror whose reflections and refractions remind us both of strawberries and sweet elder, of iced lemonades and scorching whisky-punches. Two weeks more and this era of the year, and yet low leaf is ended, and that season of which you, snow-capped, peaks promontory a broad hint, shall set in and close up navigation on our ocean plains.

Two weeks more, and the winter tide will bind gay autumn in that sombre sheet which has unbound till Winter's grasp is thawed, till Spring sets out her vibrant, red roses' hearts, till the cheerful, though, this season, a little gloomy, point of view, to what it was a twelve month since, with War's dark lowering clouds above us. How much more precious now is the knapsack, the blue coat and cap, that pillowed aching heads, to what they were at this time "Sixty Four." Possessions now most precious in the households, and through coming years, legions, were, valuable and sacred than silver or gold. Like the circling year, we too have its seasons and its phases, its ebbs and flows, its appropriate to each.

Camp Douglas Omnibus.—Everybody wanting to go to Camp, on business or pleasure, will find it to the advantage to take Joseph Ramsdell's four-horse "double-decker," which appears in another column.

Gifts.—The little bantam along is fighting most pluckily against the Paganism that has snatched on the shores of the Dead Sea of the West.—Black Hawk Journal.

Mixing Stocks Brought a better price in San Francisco last week than for some time before. Gould & Curry rose to $1,100, and $800 was asked for Yellow Jacket.

It is stated that Mr. Thomas Buchanan Read is on his way to New Orleans, to paint a picture of Gen. Sheridan and the horse he has celebrated so brilliantly in verse. He goes under the auspices of the Philadelphia Union League.

The interest of money in San Francisco, the past week, was one and one-half per cent per month, and demand active. In New York, a fortnight since, good mercantile paper was discounted at from seven to ten per cent, per annum. Considerable difference apart in those cities and their currencies.

Telegraphic.—Just as we were going to press, a bunch of telegrams arrived—in time to be too late to appear in this morning's issue. But here's the substance of 'em: Gold closed unexpectedly firm in New York on the 17th, at 147. Gen. Logan accepted his Mission to Mexico. Hay-tin troubles settled.

The Fenian Order, says the London Telegraph, consists of "a batch of demoted printers, a pugnacious tailor, a mad hatter, a score of shop boys as mad as the hatter, a few publicans and a disbanded militia man." This is pretty hard on the government, which out of fear of such a ragged regiment, has violated every one of the liberties about which Englishmen are always bragging. It has not only arbitrarily arrested great numbers—it continues to do so.

JUROR LAMB dismissed the bigamy complaint against Robinson, as the divorce obtained in Utah is legal according to the laws of that State.

Above is from the telegraphic dispatches to the Nevada press, from San Francisco, Nov. 13th. Divorces here like many other Mormon matters, are the essence of injustice and illegality, obtainable for ten dollars from the self-constituted "God's vice-gerent," Brigham Young! Nor is Utah a "State," as yet, except a State of Statute-breaking lechery.

The editor of an influential Exchange thinks that the recent "address" of Mr. Seward, the "lecture" of Wendell Phillips, the "letter" of Thurlow Weed, the oration of Montgomery Blair, and the ultimatum of John Van Buren altogether do not supply the nation with much that is new or valuable. "The words," he says, "that are best worth studying, just now, are those which happen to fall from Andrew Johnson. It is not necessary for himself to speak to keep himself before the people, and, therefore, all that he says means something, and is significant."

ALL SORTS OF ITEMS.

Just as the bee collects her sweets,
From every flower she visits,
So we collect the best of all,
And give you the whole as well.

OUR IDOL.
Close the door lightly, and let the breath
Of our little earth-angel in talking with death;
Gently he waxes her—she wishes to stay;
His arms about her—he bears her away.
Mildly he leads her down from the dome;
Angels are chanting the sweet welcome home,
Close, stricken weep! I come to the bed;
Gaze on the sleeper, our idol is dead!

Swear not on the rainbow, when the blue sky
No wonder such beauty was claimed in the sky;
Cross the hands gently o'er the white breast,
So like a mild spirit strayed from the host;
Breathe her out softly—this idol of ours—
Let her grave-slumbers be laid the sweet flowers

Why is a leaky barrel like a coward?
Because it runs.

Why is a patch of corn like a dunce?
Because it's liable to get its ears pulled.

Which is the best way to keep a woman's love?
Never to return it.

Don't always turn back because there's danger ahead;
There may be danger in the rear.

If you would have a blessing upon your riches,
Bestow a good portion of them in charity.

Swift says, when a man avers that he is of no party,
He certainly belongs to a party, but it is one of which he is ashamed.

Why is a man who is fond of pop like a bigamist?
Because he goes in for a spare rib.

"Sallie," said a fellow to a girl who had red hair, "keep away from me—you'll set me on fire."
"No danger of that," said Sallie, "you are too green to burn."

Death always casts a veil over the failings of those who were endowed with the sensibility of heart, and those who were really good, after they have ceased to breathe find defenders even among those who blamed them when alive.
